

PIRATES AHOY!

The names of some famous pirates are, Black Beard, William Kidd, Anne Bonney, Grace O'Malley and Black Bart.

Pirates have existed for centuries and still exist today.

It is said that one reason pirates wore eye patches was to keep one of their eyes adjusted to seeing in the dark.

Pirates drank Grog, which was rum, water, lemon and sugar.

Each pirate ship had its own set of rules, that included things like how the loot would be divided.

Pirate treasure wouldn't always include gold and silver, it often included food, cloth and animal hide.

Although it is thought that some pirates thought it was unlucky to have women onboard a pirate ship, there were women pirates too.

Pirates wore earrings because they thought it would improve their eyesight.

A pirate is a person who commits a crime while at sea, the crime could be anything but usually involved robbery.

The skull and crossbones flag on a pirate ship is called the Jolly Roger.
